GET THE BEST OUT OF OUR NETWORK

Why SKUA?
SKUA Nature is the ground support of several worldwide tour operators and professional photographers. Our team is at the professionals’s disposal to help them organizing at the best possible way all logistics and technical aspects.
We offer a wide number of scheduled tours with set dates and itineraries not only in Italy, but also in other exclusive destinations we manage, such as Ultima Frontiera in Romania.
We take care of every ground arrangement and our tour leaders are expert and passionate naturalists: all exceptional birders, most of them excellent all-round naturalists, some of them specialists in some particular topic. In our team there are also professional nature photographers that can run workshops or photographic expeditions. Our guides speak fluent english, spanish, italian and french.
Their profound knowledge of the destinations we offer assures that your clients can make the most of the experience and that their holiday goes smoothly.

In the following two pages you can find some our suggestions to get the best out of our network.

SKUA Nature offers ground support to several worldwide tour operators and professional photographers.

What we offer are exclusive places, most of them are private properties, located in very secluded and little known biodiversity hot spots, where EVERYTHING has been developed especially for nature tourism and to meet the requirements of even the most demanding nature photographers.

Not to speak about the fact that our reserves are present all over Europe...

A network of workshops/expeditions can also be organized, to cover the best target species in different kinds of habitats and in different countries.

Our reserves represent a World entirely dedicated to the passion of your clientele … and your own!

In most of the reserves we allow no more than 2 groups of 6 photographers or 1 group of 12 birders every week. A location to share only with other nature lovers or even, on demand, to enjoy in total exclusivity.

Our team is at the professionals's disposal to help them organizing in the best possible way all the logistics and technical aspects, as for example, to choose the better excursions to add to the standard itinerary depending on the period or preparing the place for the use of new photographic techniques such us night photography, time lapse, etc.

Moreover a marketing office it's available to speak about further possible collaborations, partnerships, or different kind of ideas.

- big private and exclusive nature reserves
- a big number of new generation photographic hides for several target species
- different kinds of vehicles (4x4 jeeps, boat-hide, electric cars, etc.)
- ad hoc-planned birding and photographic excursions
- high quality accommodation inside the reserve (in the ultimate reserves) surrounded by nature
- just few people in big nature areas
- local guides that support you during the activities, suggesting the best hides and taking you to excursions
- dedicated prices for tour operators and professionals who can then offer workshops/tours proposals in line with the market
- and much more...

Reportages, documentaries and special proposals

Being mostly located in biodiversity hot spots and in quite remote areas, our reserves are also wonderful locations for nature and cultural reportages and documentaries. Our team will support you for logistic and organizational matters to let you focus only on the creation of the product.

Thanks to our numerous photographic hides it's possible to easily record a wide number of animal species in their natural behaviour, interacting with other individuals or even with other species, offering scenes that are difficult to record in other ways.

Every reserve though has its own particular features and other special activities can be organized, such us tours dedicated to specific groups of animals (amphibians, reptiles, insects – dragonflies, butterflies, etc.).

Photographic hides are also perfect to be used by drawing and artistic groups, for workshop or just holidays, as animals are not scared by those facilities and normally spend lot of time in front of the hide.

In conclusion, our reserves offer unlimited opportunities for the organization of several kinds of nature-related activities. Our marketing office is always glad to receive new ideas and special proposals and helps professionals to realize them.
